Child Fable.

The following conversation between little Charlie C., nine years old, and his mother, at "bed-time," on the 4th of March, seems to me to furnish a good example of child faith, and illustrates the confidence of every one "who cometh to God." Why cannot all children of larger growth have the beautiful simplicity of this boy's seeker?

"Mamma, grandma asked me to-day if I would pray for General Grant."

"Well, have you, Charlie?"

"Oh, yes!"

"What did you pray for?"

"That he might have wisdom; and that no danger might come near him!"

"Charles, my boy, do you make a little prayer of your own at nights?"

"Oh, always!"

"Do you think your little prayers are answered?"

"Oh, I have plenty of proof of that! Sometimes Daze and Jus, get angry with me, and won't let me hug up to them, and I hate to sleep off by myself. So when I say my prayers I ask God to make them kind to me, and to forgive me. And sometimes, before I hardly get up from my knees, they fly to me and kiss me, and ask me to hug up to them."

"Your little prayers make you happy, don't they, Charles?"

"Oh, yes! I could not live without them. I should not think anybody could live without praying. I should not think things would come out at all as they want to have them."

"Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted and become as little children ye shall not enter the kingdom of heaven."—Independent.

The Iron Man.

A convict pressing his cheek against the iron bars of a cell—did you ever see that sight? Did you ever hear the dismal clank, clank, of rusty iron against mouldering wood, or the regular tramp of six hundred men, all of them wearing the badges of sin and disgrace? Did you ever feel the cold, damp touch of the great flag-stones; look up to the dim roof through the interstices of iron stairs; feel that all that great space throbbled with human hearts, trembled with human woe, and were not ready to weep at thought of all the bitter tears that had been shed beside the hard pallets? Some say that the most of such a congregation are given over to hardness of heart. Yes, if one reads that stolid face and the dull eye carelessly.

But this prisoner, with his lantern jaws, his fierce, hollow, death-bright eye, his wide, white, seamed forehead, the grey hair standing back as if the hand had often pressed it with some burning, feverish impulse, what do you think his age was? "Seventy." A poor guess; not yet forty-three. O, what a hard stony face it was.

"The man has no feelings," said the jailor—"neither shame nor grief. He dares any glance; he sneers at sympathy; his heart is flint itself. Monsters are sometimes born—I think he is one."

"But his crime?"

"Wife-murder—at least he caused her death. She was a terrible woman; and neglected a little child, I think, so that it died, I believe; and he hated and finally killed her."

A history to make one shudder.

"He has never expressed remorse, and our chaplain sees him only for form's sake; it is impossible to keep up an interest in him."

And yet there were some remnants of nobility about him. Even this man had been young and comparatively innocent at his mother's knee; he had loved; he had known sorrow; he had felt remorse, perhaps. Who can tell?

"Little Minnie is naughty to-day!"

said the child, with a subdued look.

"Mamma, put Minnie in prison."

Such a horrible revulsion over me at those words. Had not children as beautiful grown into what? My very soul shuddered. It was with an effort that I entered the gloomy hall, with some friends, the child still prattling. And yet I thank God for that day of my existence.

The story face was there; the great hollow eyes looking out eagerly. Seldom a child seen in that deathly gloom.

"Man, do you want a pretty flower?" cried Minnie, holding it up. She was lifted to his level. To my astonishment, he took it; his lip quivered.

"Man, you want a kiss?" chirruped the little bird-voice. A sob that was almost terrific was the answer. He withdrew from sight as if he had been shot. We all stood transfixed. A child's voice had stirred the looked-up waters of his soul, and we ended our visitation.

The next day the warden came to my house.

"Jenner hasn't been off his bed since yesterday," he said; "he begs you will see him." In less than fifteen minutes I stood in the cell.

The man's face, no longer defiant, had grown deathlike.

"O! thank God—thank God!" he cried, fervently; "till yesterday, I thought my heart was dead—but that child—that child"—he choked again.

"Would you like to see her?"

He passed his hand over his face. "No; let me die with those sweet words ringing in my ears. O! my own little one—my own little darling—your wicked father will never see you—never—never."

When the strong anguish had passed he told me the history of his life—and such a history! Deep pity was in my heart long before he finished.

The iron man flesh again. He only lived three months after the defiant will was broken. Deeply did he repent, humbly pray for mercy, and when his wasted face shone with the divine light of forgiveness he said to me, "You may bring her—only once."

So my darling brightened the dreary hour, and on his dying lips her fluttering kiss fell softly—the last life-throb that touched him as the soul went out, leaving a smile behind.

W. A. WILLIAMS,

Let no one tell us that Grant is above suspicion of bribery. He is below suspicion. Suspicion of guilt is in his case swallowed up in the certainty of it. The character of his transaction with Mr. Brown, the late Mayor of Washington, is familiar to the public. He sold his house in that city to Bowen for $40,000, and a part of the amount was paid to bind the bargain. Then came Stewart, of New York, and others, offering him $60,000, and, notwithstanding the previous sale, the offer was accepted. But a trouble ensued with Bowen, who finally relinquished the house and received the exceedingly valuable appointment of postmaster, although he had not been previously spoken of for the place. A more manifest case of bribery was never made out against a public functionary or a private citizen. The house was delivered to Grant, and the consideration promptly paid to Bowen.

Let the Radical editor at Lexington obtain, by all means, the verdict of an editorial convention of Kentucky upon our charges against the President, and the language in which we have made it. Let him not give himself a moment's rest till the decision shall be pronounced.

A numerous person describes GARY Administration as one-third tobacco smoke and two-thirds Negro.

REPUDIATION.—It is as plain as the nose on a man's face that the Democratic party will boldly enter upon the next national campaign with repudiation emblazoned on their banners. Last year they went half way. In 1872 they will go the whole figure.

which had China's labor market and the cotton market filled up the places in Southern agriculture vacated by the freedmen: it was equally true that white labor, whether native or immigrant, was supposed to lengthen by close and attentive tillage, in the fields of the small planter or the great cotton planter, the surplus of the soil. But there are remote contingencies which can not be counted as factors in determining the actual conditions of Southern cotton production and the immediate prospects of the cotton market may be affected by those contingencies for present purposes, or commercial calculations it is unsafe to take into account. It is not touched and it is not touched with the mark of production in the preceding industrial situation and the

MR. RAYMOND'S LAST EDITORIAL.
After Mr. Raymond's death there was found lying on his desk an unfinished editorial paragraph referring to Major General McDowell, probably the last words that flowed from his pen. It breaks off abruptly, leaving a sentence incomplete, as if the writer had been suddenly interrupted at his work and called away—a sadly suggestive incident. — N. Y. Times

Organization of the Catawba Valley Land Company.

As the Incorporators, it is with pleasure we announce to the public the organization of the Catawba Valley Land Company. With a full Board of Directors, and a full corps of competent and reliable officers we predict a brilliant future and successful career for this useful and benevolent institution.

In appearing then before the people of this and other States as candidates for public patronage, it is but due to the opinion of those whose confidence and esteem we hope to merit, that some at least of the objects had in view by the Incorporators of this company should be made known. It is not, however, the purpose here to enter into details and to elaborate the many reasons which induced its friends to ask of the Legislature of North Carolina the present charter with its liberal and benevolent provisions; sufficient to say, that one great and prominent question kept constantly before their eyes, was, as to the best means to be adopted by which the large and profitless surplus of our landed interest could be disposed of in the shortest period of time and to the greatest advantage to our people and State.

This we may say was the main reason which led to the application, and the one most apparent to the inquisitive investigations of every curious inquiring mind. Impoverished as our people have been by the results of a terrible and disastrous war, with little else left them to call their own except their wasted lands, with comparatively no market for these by the ordinary mode of conveyancing, with limited capital to supply the wants of business, the great and growing scarcity of money, and the reluctance of immigration to seek among us pleasant homes and fertile farms, we have been induced to ask of a generous Legislature the present mode of disposing of real estate. We have, we are pleased to say, every encouragement for believing that our plan will be successful; alike remunerative to the friends of the enterprise, and beneficial to our charitable and educational institutions by contributing as required by the charter a portion of our revenues in aid of the Poor and School Funds of the State. The friends of this enterprise are well aware of the prejudice that has long existed in the minds of our people against lotteries, and in many instances not without good reason. Appreciating therefore the difficulties with which they will necessarily for a time be called upon to contend, they have endeavored by the selection of gentlemen of known character and integrity as officers to fill the different departments to quiet the apprehensions of the scrupulous and incredulous. In this respect at least they can now flatter themselves that they have been exceedingly fortunate in procuring the services of such old and well known citizens as Messrs. W. F. Davidson and A. H. Martin to fill the important offices of President and Treasurer. This announcement will be at once an earnest to the public of an anxious and settled determination on the part of the company to carry out to the letter the provisions of their charter, and to discharge faithfully all trusts confided to their keeping and management. The granting of lottery powers in this State is by no means a novelty much less an innovation upon the history of our legislation. An act was obtained appointing four Commissioners in Wilmington in the year 1760 for the purpose of raising funds by the exercise of lottery powers, to be expended in furnishing two churches in the Parishes of St. James and St. Phillips, in the county of New Hanover. Another act was also obtained in or about the year 1836, for the purpose of supplying the necessary funds with which to erect a Masonic Hall at Hillsboro. These enterprises were managed by, and received the approval of the most prominent and influential men of their day and time in the State. A charter therefore to enable our people to dispose of the surplus of their lands with greater facility and certainty, and to convert their dead capital into active, available and profitable means, cannot be looked upon if properly managed, otherwise than as a powerful lever in developing the resources of the State, adding wealth to the depleted coffers of our poverty-stricken people, and as a benevolent and charitable institution contributing to the intellectual culture of the rising generation, and aiding in ameliorating the suffering condition of a large and unfortunate class of our citizens, who have been reduced to a state of almost hopeless pauperism. The operations of this Company, carrying out the objects contemplated in the charter as may be hereafter seen in the arrangements of their schemes and plans of distribution, will be confined exclusively to the disposal of real estate by the sale of certificates, and no prizes other than simple prizes for reality, or optional prizes based on scheme or awarded at any distribution. From the character of the men placed at the head of the affairs of this Company, the country has a guaranty that the purposes for which it has been incorporated will be strictly adhered to, and public confidence not misplaced or abused. Hoping therefore by a uniform system of integrity and fair dealing to commend this institution to the favorable consideration of the public we respectfully refer all persons desirous of making sales of their real estate through the agency of this company to the President's advertisement which will be found below.

Respectfully,

H. M. FRITCHARD,
JOHN PHELAN,
S. C. BARNETT,
E. A. McLEOD,
W. W. GRIER,
S. W. DAVIS,

Incorporators.

Catawba Valley Land Company

Desirous of arranging at the earliest possible day, a scheme for the first distribution, notice is now given to all persons wishing to dispose of their lands or other real estate, through the agency of this Company, to file at once with the President, bonds for titles. No lands or other property will be entered for sale unless the titles are clear and unincumbered, and in all cases when necessary, the acknowledgment of the wife must be had. Properties will not be taken at extravagant or fabulous valuations, and before entering the same on the books of the company for sale, a small entrance fee will be required of each person to be paid.

for Anthracite or Bituminous coal, have been in successful operation for the last ten years, and have proved to be the best Fire-place Heaters manufactured and put in operation. They are getting to be generally used, often in the place of furnaces, for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwellings and offices. Two or three Stoves heating the largest dwellings, and besides, are quite CHEAP, MENTAL, and ILLUMINATING, having all the beauty and cheerfulness of an open grate fire, but are more ECONOMICAL, CLEANER, and RADIATING LARGE AMOUNT OF HEAT. We can refer to thousands of families who have them in use. We manufacture our own COOKING STOVES, and we guarantee them to be equal to any sold for heating and cooking. We have Stoves to take in any good and with large ovens, and are superior Stoves for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwellings and offices. We are getting out some new patterns of Cooking Stoves, that will burn Bituminous coal, hard coal, and wood. They will have a beautiful finish, and will stand among the No. 1 Cook Stoves. Our Cooking Stoves are Baltimore made, and we guarantee the plates. Our Cooking Ranges are pronounced the best and cheapest in the market. Baking of all kinds can be done in our Ranges as quickly and easily as well as in a Brick oven. We will manufacture S. B. SEXTON'S new patent Hot-Air Furnaces, warranted to burn from 30 to 70 hours with one filling. Thankful to our friends and the public for their past favors, we solicit a continuance of their patronage.

NOTICE.—

We hereby notify the public that, from and after this date, we employ no agents for the sale of Gregory's Dyspeptic Mixture.

Neither are there any interested parties with us. We are the inventors, sole proprietors, and only manufacturers of the genuine article, and our individual signatures accompany each bottle—and all orders and remittances must be made to Dr. W. W. & R. E. GREGORY, at Charlotte, N. C.

In assuming the entire charge of this valuable remedy, we present it to you in a new dress, and have reduced the price to fifty cents per bottle, to bring it within the reach of all. In the pamphlet which accompanies each bottle will be seen the certificates of the most distinguished physicians, judges and clergymen of the State, and we only ask for it a trial, that dyspeptics may be convinced of its curative virtues.

A liberal discount will be made.

CAUTION!

We desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of snuff generally, that since the war, certain tobacco manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuff, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Mark, so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff" is no longer made.

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them; as they are the losers thereby. It will be found upon comparison, that the "Lorillard's Snuff" is "ahead" of all others, being made of the best snuff after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of the many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired (all Tastes), or
